ABOUT ME

Hi my name is Kathryn

I am a front end web development and user experience design student at Weber State University. Before I decided to learn how to program I studied cell and molecular biology and chemistry. I worked in a number of research labs and as an analytic chemist. In 2017, I decided I wanted to learn how to program. After I made my first project, I was hooked. I went back to school and got my associates degree in computer science.

I love making art and programming. When I am not behind my computer working, you can usually find me in the mountains or dancing. I love hiking, camping, doing yoga, rock climbing, and doing aerial arts.

I love being in the mountains.

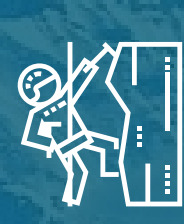

In my free time I like to...

Hike

Camp

Rock Climb

Do Yoga

My Process

1

Goals

Tell me what are you looking for?

We can discuss products and options and find the best solution for you.

2

Brand

What is your brand?
What styles do you like? What message do you want to send?
I want to create a product that represents you.

3

Design

I will create mockups and prototypes.
You decide what you like and we will move forward from there.

4

Build

Once we have a design in mind, I will get to coding so that you can enjoy your new website.
